

An event designed to help us explore our faith journey

The joy of work?

Encountering and Responding to God in the Whole of Life

“All of life is spiritual, for all is part of God's creation. There is no division between sacred and secular, work and worship, religion and politics. Spirituality is not apart from our daily lives; it is our daily lives. But it is a life with a cutting edge not avoiding the pain or fear.”

As men and women who care about how we live out our faith in our everyday lives; these words challenge us:

- In what ways do I believe that God is interested in or involved with my daily work and how do I work with him in his creation?
- In what ways am I to see my work as a spiritual activity?
- In what ways are work and worship inter-related? What does that mean for how I approach both Sunday and Monday mornings?

These are some of the questions we want to explore together on 24th April

Whatever the work you do whether you are employed, self-employed, seeking work, volunteering, home working, a student, retired etc then you will find something in this session to encourage and inspire you.

Who is this session for?

- People looking for fresh ideas to sustain their faith in daily life
- People who want to break down the barriers between Sunday and Monday
- People who are responsible for education and learning in a local church and are looking for new ideas and resources
- People who are seeking to encourage others to discover their callings and help everyone explore their vocations
- and you
